Isaac Zamora:

The Zamora family lived next door to me for about ten years as I was growing up. They introduced me to religion and God and throughout my childhood served as my primary example of a proper Christian family. Fifteen years after I moved away, on September 2, 2008, Isaac Zamora, the younger of the two Zamora boys, murdered six people in the name of Jesus on the street where we grew up, including a sheriff's deputy and a couple people I remember from childhood. At his hearing, all Isaac said was "I listen to God. I kill for God."

Middle Finger Justice - A true story about Isaac Zamora's mom's attitudes about profanity.

God at Bambi - I haven't written this yet but it will depict the time the Zamoras introduced me to the concept of God during a Disney movie.
